██████████ requested technical assistance in researching repatriation plans. She noted that ██████████ is currently updating their plan and they would like to review plans from other states to use as a template.

Response:

The ASPR TRACIE Team reviewed several resources related to repatriation plans. Resources collected are provided in Section I of this document. Section II includes other relevant resources related to repatriation.

I. Repatriation Plans

California Department of Social Services, and California Governor's Office of Emergency Services. (2014). State of California Emergency Repatriation Plan.

This plan provides information about responsibilities for the California Emergency Repatriation process and policies for activation and operation of the Emergency Repatriation Center (ERC). The ERC provides various resources/ services such as food and medical services. Medical assistance will be available for repatriates that may have minor medical/ psychological needs which may occur prior to or following their arrival at the ERC.

Florida State Emergency Response Team. (2014). The State Of Florida Emergency Repatriation Annex.

The purpose of this Annex is to provide the organizational framework for the coordination of the emergency repatriation of U.S. citizens and selected foreign nationals by federal, state, and local government agencies as well as private and volunteer organizations. In addition, the purpose is to provide procedures and necessary services that will expedite the reception, processing, onward travel, and short or long-term care for the emergency evacuees. Roles and responsibilities of Emergency Support Function (ESF) 8 (Health and Medical) and other ESFs are also identified.

Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division. (2014). Michigan Emergency Management Plan.

The Michigan Emergency Repatriation Plan (a key support plan to the Michigan Emergency Management Plan) provides the organizational and operational framework for a coordinated, effective reception of repatriates at a Michigan port of entry. The goals of this effort are to: 1) allow repatriates to enter the U.S. expeditiously; 2) promote efficient registration and health inspection of repatriates; and 3) provide temporary care and onward travel assistance and services to repatriates who request them. NOTE: The Emergency Repatriation Plan starts on page 351 of this document.

Ohio Emergency Management Agency. (2014). Ohio Emergency Operations Plan Emergency Support Function #6 – Mass Care: Ohio Emergency Repatriation Plan.

This plan provides a functional structure for the reception, temporary care, and onward transportation of repatriates through Ohio’s military and civilian ports by federal, state, and local government authorities and private or volunteer organizations.

Oregon Emergency Management, and the Oregon Department of Health and Human Services. (2009). Emergency Repatriation Incident Annex.

This Emergency Repatriation Annex provides a functional structure for a coordinated, effective reception of repatriates at ports of entry in Oregon, which may include military and civilian ports in the state, by federal, state, and local government authorities and private or volunteer organizations.

II. Other Resources

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Office of Refugee Resettlement. (n.d.). About Repatriation Homepage. (Accessed 11/22/2016.)

This webpage includes information about the U.S. Repatriation Program, and the services provided by the Office of Refugee Resettlement. It also includes numerous forms and other resources related to repatriation.

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Administration for Children and Families, Office of Refugee Resettlement. (2015). Administration of Children and Families - U.S. Repatriation Program.

This document provides an overview of the U.S. Repatriation Program, services provided to eligible repatriates, and Repatriation Program activities for both Emergency and Non-Emergency repatriations.
